

90%

of Cornell students believe ... it's NEVER OK to humiliate or intimidate new members.

Humiliation and intimidation can look like ...

eating gross stuff

eat up now...

fish skin?
pickle juice?
hot sauce?

Humiliation and intimidation can look like ...

isolation from a group

Long time, no see;
wanna hang out?

I can't talk to you.

Humiliation and intimidation can look like ...

sleep deprivation

"Wake up!!!
You have 15 minutes
to get down
here!!!"

... not in a
group, team, or
organization.
It's never ok.

Humiliation and intimidation can look like ...

acts of exertion

Now, carry it up
to the 6th floor.

Humiliation and intimidation can look like ...

acts of servitude

... and now you
wash my socks!

Humiliation and intimidation can look like ...

pressure to drink alcohol

We said to kill the keg.
Get going...

Find out more: Definitions. Reporting. Help.

hazing.cornell.edu

* MASCOT Survey, Spring, 2018 (N=1,854; Response Rate= 37%)

Brought to you by Cornell Health, Cornell Police, the Department of Athletics & Physical Education, Institutional Research & Planning, the Office of Campus Activities, the Office of the Dean of Students, the Office of the Judicial Administrator, the Office of Sorority & Fraternity Life, and Residential & New Student Programs.

